

Matched evidence replicates numerical convergence without structural-law recovery

45/45 structural sessions across 3 configurations

0/5 misspecified exact-law recovery per configuration

Panels a-b show the corrected DeepSeek-high structural assay; panels c-d add the fully matched GPT-medium and DeepSeek-low structural results. Each configuration used 5 worlds x 3 arms with identical packets and scoring. The low-reasoning parametric block has no qualified denominator and is not shown. Provider-free qualification establishes registered power-v-linear discrimination, not uniqueness against every phenomenological alternative. Five-world contrasts are descriptive; no configuration-superiority test is performed.
